DELIRIOUS JOY AT LINCOLN

Town Went Wild on Candidate Bryan's Arrival.

OVATION ON THE ROUTE

Thousands of Shouting Citizens Met Him at the Train and Steam Whistles and Fireworks Formed a Part of the Celebration-He Made a Brief Speech to the Crowd.

Lincoln, Neb., July 17. - Tonight Lincoln s delirious. The dehrium Legan when the train bearing the nominee was sighted by the thousand gathered in and about the railway station. How many thousands were there it would be difficult to estimate. Men, women and children, with tin horns, which they blew lustily, steam calliopes whistled, carnon firecrackers and everything else tha the vicinity of the station into a pandemo once. They're pants which sold for $3 to $6.

Of all the values in the stock of bievelst suits the golf pants at $1.98 are best. Navy blue serges and flannel and tan coof the crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, their children, and the others managed to get through the assembled masses and were placed in carassembled masses and were paced in car-nuars. Mayor Grapham and a reception committee had charge of the arrangements and under their direction the nominee's party were conveyed to the Bryan residence, No. 1625 D street, where neighbors and friends were waiting to give them hearty welcome.

BRYAN IN THE PARADE. At 8:30 o'clock Mr. Bryan went to the Lincoln Hotel in a carriage to take his place in the parade. Mrs. Bryan and a place in the parade. Mrs. Bryan and a number of friends proceeding directly to the legislative building. It had begun to rain by this time, but the ardor of the people was not diminished, and when Mr. Bryan drove up to the hotel he was greeted with a repetition of the delifious enthusiasm, expressed by lung power and by the instruments of torture, that he had encountered on his arrival at the railway station. Then the procession was started station. Then the procession was started for the statehouse.

A platoon of policeled the parade. First came F. A. Miller, chief a arshal and his Staff, including a number of Army and National Guard officers, followed by the Scond Regiment Fand and the Lincoln Light Infantry. Mr. Bryan came next, and after him Company D of the First Regiment, Nebraska National Guard.

State, county and city officials followed in turn, and the rest of the procession was made up of civic organizations of every character, including traveling men and relief societies.

The Bryan bome guards bore flambeaus and discharged rockets, while many of the other paraders also indulged in pyro-technic display. A brass band headed nearly every organization, and there was no lack of musical effort. THOUSANDS IN THE RAIN.

Packed in the rain outside the statebou were people by the thousands. They cared bothing for the wet underfect and the wet overhead and stood in the mud as patiently fisif it had been the most propitious weather And their enthusiasm was something wonder ful. Nearly every young man and young woman was armed with a tin born and they spared not their lungs. But the cheers ed out all other attempts at expressing

When Mr. Bryan was introduced the shou that went up was a mighty one and it was repeated over and over. A temporary plat-form had been erected at the corner of the building and from this Mr. Bryan spoke as follows:

"Feilow-citizens: I am proud tonight to be able to say to those who are assembled here, these are our neighbors (Applause.) I bug to express to Republicans, Demo-crats. Populists, Prohibitionists and all parties, the gratitude which I feel for this magnificent demonstration.

"I say we, because she who has shared my struggles deserves her full share of all the bonors that may come to me. (Applanse) I desire to express tonight, no only our grateful appreciation of all the kindnesses, socially and politically, that you have shown to us, but to give to you the issurance that if by the suffrages of our en I for a short time occupy the countrymen I for a short time occupy the most honorable place in the gift of the people, I shall return to the people who first took me in their arms. (Applause.)

HIS HOME THERE. "This shall be my home. And whe earthly honors have passed away I shall mingle my ashes with the dust of this moment to forget differences that exis between us and join in celebrating the fact that at last the nomination for Presi-dent has crossed the Missouri River. (Great cheering and loud and long applause.)

"And now, until I can see each one of you personally, and express my thanks by the pressure of the hand, or by my voice, permit me to bid you all, in behalf of my wife and myself, good night," (Long

After the speech Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, standing in the rotunda of the State house. received a vast concourse of people. They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Weich, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs R P R Miller and Mr and Mrs A F Har

WELCOMED AT OTHER POINTS. Lincoln, Neb., July 17 .- A royal welcome to his own State was given Mr. Bryan, The first town after crossing the Missouri into Nebraska was Rule. Asthetrain came to a standstill three score of men rush forward and began firing the shotguns and rifles, with which they were armed. Then a brass band struck up an air of welcome. When Mr. Bryan appeared en the platform a great shout went up from the crowd. Then there was a rush for the train and in a minute the nominee was in a maeistrom of wildly excited and enthusiastic residents of Rule. A woma rushed with a baby in her arms and managed to say that the youngster was William Jennings Bryan Jones. Men pushed for-ward and said: "God bless you" and women struggled for a handshake.

At Falls City nearly 500 Nebraskans were gathered at the little depot to meet Mr. Bryan, and when he appeared on the platform of the car he was greeted with cheer of welcome,

After shaking hands with a large num

He wanted the newspaper men on the train to too into their faces and carry the news to the East that the people of Nebraska can be trusted with the government. The whole population appeared to have turned out at Humboldt and Table Rock and Mrs. Eryan was deluged with flowers. At Table Rock anyll solutes assisted the great audience in giving yent to its enthusiasm audience in giving vent to its enthusiasm and Mr. Bryan made a short speech of thanks. The reception committees from Lincoln joined the train at Table Rock. A delegation from the Lincoln Sorosis also greeted Mrs. Bryan there.

Just after leaving Tecumsen Mr. Bryan announced that it bas been finally determined that the official notification of his nomination should take place in New York. He said that the date had not been fixed, but it would probably be arranged to have the demonstration during the first week in demonstration during the first week in People poured into the train at several stations and rode short distances, the better to get an opportunity to see the nominee. Many ladies, in addition to the Serosis contingent, were in the Lincoln party that joined the train at Tecumseh. and as nearly all were friends of Mrs. Bryan things began to assume quite a home-like air.

A knot of people cheered at Smartville as the train whirled past, and at Sterling, where a stop of a minute was made. Those assembled there gave three cheers and Adams turned out a hundred of its population and Firth had a contingent of enthusiastic inhabitants. It was the same story over again at Hickman, the last stopping place before reaching Lincoln.

The train rolled into Union depot at Lincoln at 7 o'clock and Mr. Bryan was given a tremendous ovation by the assembled thousands.

Nearly five thousand people attended the excursion which was given yesterday at River View for the benefit of the families of the gallant firemen who lost their lives in the recent Louisiana fire. It is said that the net proceeds will be more than $4,000. No wonder it was an immense success; not only because of the noble cause in which the excursion was given, but there was a committee of arrangements forty-four in number, under the supervision of Mr. W. T. Beit, first assistant chief of the fire department.

Mr. Belt reported the figures, last night, of those who attended at 4817. The Pentz, the Randall and the Arrowsmith made in all six trips to accommodate the

Two of the more valuable prizes were the horse and trap dedated by the Fencibies, and the gold-headed cane donated by a lady friend of the firemen. The horse and trap were awarded to ticket No. 535, and the gold-headed cane to ticket No. 536.

Mr. Beit said last night that the firemen desired to return their thanks to Cupt. Randail, who gave them the grounds and the use of two steamers free of charge; to Mr. W. W. Hall, who printed the tickets for the affair free of charge; and all the kind friends of the firemen's families.

The net result of the excursion will not be known until early next week, but the figures above given will be approximately correct.

Although his condition is not extremely dangerous, brs. Burton and Walter, who are attending him, think that it will be fully two mooths before the patient will recover. The brothers who committed the assault were arrested last night by Mounted Officer Rogers and charged at the Ninth picenet station with assault and nattery. Mr. Snell requested the warrant to be sworn out for assault and battery with intent to kill, but for some mexplained reason the latter part was smitted.

Both prisoners were released on $30 collatera for their appearance in court, when the case comes up.

The affair occurred in the early part of the evening and the motive so far has not been disclosed.

Snell is a powerful man weighing 250 pounds and standing about six feet one men in height. He is broad shouldered and erect and is known as the "kind of the northeast." His commanding appearance and splendid proportions have been unpleasing to a gaug of young men who call them selves the "Bladensburg road band."

Wednesday night he stepped into Bohnke's saloon, a few doors from his home, to make a payment for the rent of hishouse. As he entered the Long brothers accosted him and endeavored to pick a quarrel.

Mr. Snell walked out of the place. He entered his home, and prepared to dress for an evening gathering to which he had been invited. After this, he walked back into the saloos to get his receipted bill, and was overtaken by the Longs as he was making his exit. Without warning both jumped upon him, beating his his home and Drs. In pursuing the negotiations the government had taken two courses. In the first and the smaller question with Venezuela, upon which negotiations had been carried on with the United States rather than with Venezuela, no conclusion has as yet been arrived at.

Lord Salisbury announced that the government would shortly place upon the table of the house another blue book in regard to Venezuela, which would enable the house to see the extent of the labors of the government in the matter. When the

If not, it would still be perfectly easy to settle the particular issues at stake settle the particular issues at stake. Concurrent with these negotiations, Lord Salisbury continued, the government had respened the negotiations which were commenced during the time of the ministry of Lord Roseberry upon the question of general arbitration and which were terminated probably in consequence of the lamented death of one of the negotiators and which were terminated probably in consequence of the lamented death of one of the negotiators and partly owing to the difficulty which had not yet been surmounted of dealing with cases so large and affecting interest so vital that statesmen thought twice be fore deciding. There had been much dis-cussion with the United States upon these points. He thought the tendency of government of the United States was to sire a rapid and summary decision.
